ONE LAST FOND LOOK

(The Soldier's Talisman)

Words and Music by HERBERT OWEN HOLDERNESS

"Then smile once more, Beloved, ere we part Let thy dear eyes be graven on my heart"

Price 60 cents

The Soldier's Farewell Song

Published by
W. ALLEN LUEY
715 FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

One Last Fond Look

(THE SOLDIER'S TALISMAN)

Words & Music by HERBERT OWEN HOLDERNESS

Andante con moto mf dolce poco agitato
1. The hour has come! the sun is set-ting low Be-
2. Tho' part-ed from thee on a for-eign shore Thy mf hind the west-ern hills and I must go voice I'll hear a-mid the can-non's roar

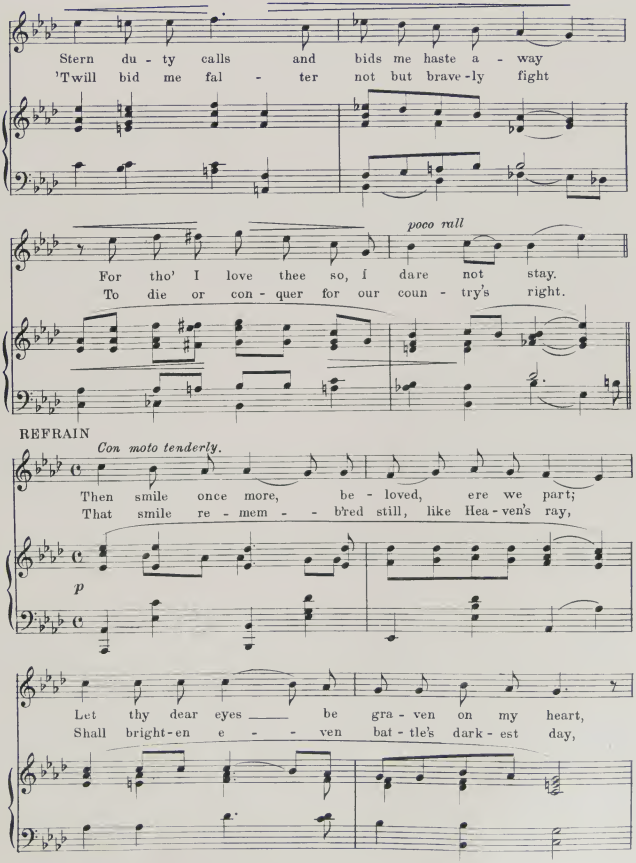
Copyright MCMXVII by W. A. Luey
715 1st National Bank Bldg. Chicago.
International Copyright Secured. All Rights Reserved.



Stern du - ty calls and bids me haste a - way
'Twill bid me fal - ter not but brave - ly fight
poco rall
For tho' I love thee so, I dare not stay.
To die or con - quer for our coun - try's right.
REFRAIN
Con moto tenderly.
Then smile once more, be - loved, ere we part;
That smile re - mem - - bred still, like Hea - ven's ray, p
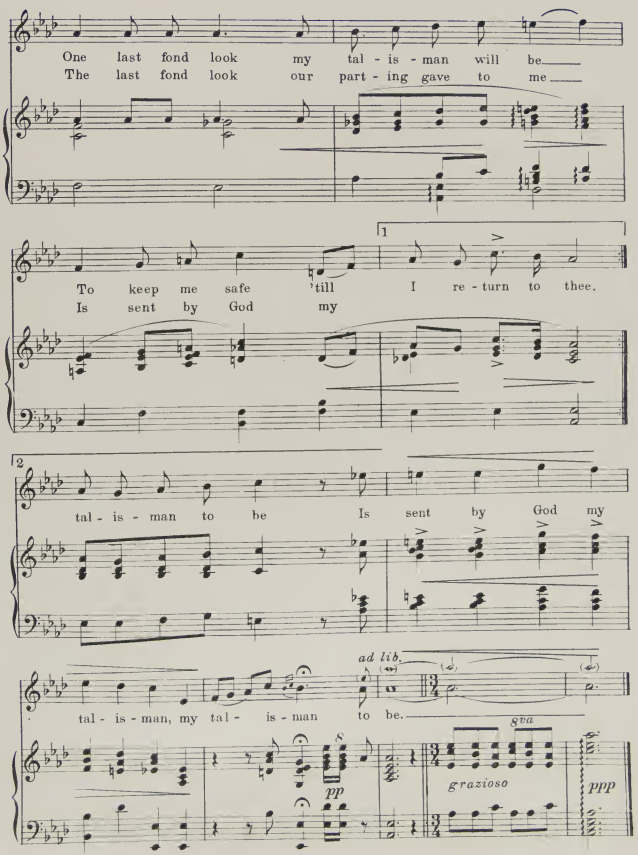
Let thy dear eyes ____ be gra - ven on my heart,
Shall bright - en e - - ven bat - tle's dark - est day,



One last fond look my tal - is - man will be
The last fond look our part - ing gave to me
To keep me safe 'till I re - turn to thee.
Is sent by God my tal - is - man to be Is sent by God my ad lib.
tal - is - man, my tal - is - man to be.
8va
pp grazioso ppp

Sample Page from the Latest Patriotic Song

To those Noble Men, dead and living, who have given the full measure of Devotion to their Flag and Country this song is dedicated.
THE SPIRIT OF '17
HERBERT OWEN HOLDERNESS
Marcia
Let me go like a sol-dier when my country calls to arms, Nor If then by chance I'm wounded I will bear the shock and pain, As I fal-ter in my courage from a dread of wars a-larm; Tho' they know my right-ful cause me when I'm well, to fight a-gain. And then can-non roar its loud-est I will trust in God and Right, Like a when the war is o-ver With a me-dal on my breast, I shall Copyright MCMXVII by W. A. Luey
All Rights Reserved
International Copyright Secured

FOR SALE BY ALL MUSIC DEALERS